

The Executives

Part 5

TJ left work early to get a gift for his wife. He bought her favorite, a big bouquet of red roses with baby breath. He got her a sexy lingerie, box of delicious chocolate, and a book she had mentioned she wanted to read, “Destini the Chocolate Princess.” He bought a rotisserie chicken, vegetables, an apple pie and ice cream. TJ went home, dropped the kids at grandma. He fixed a nice warm bath, fixed the dinner table. He put on some nice romantic music and waited for his wife to come home.

On her way home, Shaniqua prayed for their relationship. She wanted to make love to her husband. She felt he was attracted to Jennie. She was always around him and swinging her behind in his face. Apparently, he liked it.

“Father,” she cried, “I love my husband. I do not want to lose him. Please let him forgive me, and I him. Bless our marriage in a very special way. Please let us love each other with respect and kindness. Please surround us with an atmosphere of your holy presence. Please,” she sobbed. Please, let us make awesome love. When he held me today, I wanted him so much, Lord. God, just tell me what to do, please.” Shaniqua waited to hear what God had to say. But she did not hear anything. She finally reached home and went inside.

Shaniqua opened the door to welcoming, romantic music. She looked around wondering what was going on. The lights were dimmed with a warm and cozy atmosphere. Where were the children? She walked around to the dining room to see an amorous setting with two wine glasses. Her eyes ventured to a gorgeous decorative bunch of red roses in a beautiful vase. She covered her mouth with joy. Tears washed her eyes and beautiful face. Her husband walked up to her, looking tenderly into her beautiful, sexy brown eyes. He knelt down, held her hands and began to talk to her lovingly.

“My Sweet darling. I have been missing you. I watched you today, all day at work. My eyes were glued to your curvaceous hips, your sexy lips, your fabulous behind, and the sensual movement of your body. I was aroused all day, just thinking about you. Could not wait to come home and be with you. I love you Shaniqua. He held her butt and kissed her right in her groin area. Shaniqua felt her temperature radiating from the center of her body and outwards.

He stood up, went and got the gift he bought  for her. She shook herself to so she could concentrate. She realize the “Destini the Chocolate Princess,” she wanted to read, but was too busy to buy and read it. Shaniqua was very happy she hugged her husband. He hugged her back and they  fell into each other’s arms with forces of love beckoning them to explore each other’s body. Their lips danced steadily against each other. TJ led her to their bedroom. He kindly took off her garments and they both got into the sweet smelling bath that was prepared by him. It felt nice having her husband caressing her all over lovingly with steadiness of hands. TJ love the stroking of her hands where he wanted it the most. They made love like they never made before. She made a promise in her heart to God to treat her husband with respect, and to allow him to be the man that God created. It may not be easy at times, however, she knew that with God all things are possible. Shaniqua praise God for answering her prayers. TJ related to Shaniqua that he asked God to work things out in their relationship, and he promised that, through the power of God, he would love, protect and honor his wife.
